

*The 2018 JuBriCoSa Summer Arts Academy ***

Registration has started for the 2018 JuBriCoSa Summer Arts Academy for young people ages 7-18. JuBriCoSa, which is entering its 30th year, is a non-profit organization that teaches young people self-confidence and responsibility through the performing arts. Program Director, James Hart teaches with a structured curriculum where young people learn theatre basics and some advanced theatrical techniques. The first part of each session is spent in a classroom situation where students participate in theatre workshops to learn Stage Direction, Life/Acting Relationship, Using Your Voice, Body & Imagination, Character Development and more. The second part of each session is spent in rehearsal for the large scale musical production staged by the students at the conclusion of the 6-week session. All students registered in the class are cast in the production.

The complete listing of all productions and locations is on our website-www.jubricosa.org. Once there, you can browse the site, register and pay for the class(es) of your choice and view the complete summer calendar with class/rehearsal/performance times. Please keep in mind that we understand that summer can be a busy time with vacations, summer school, soccer, etc.... If there are some conflicts, just let us know and we will work with you to make it work!!
